I personally want to thank you for helping us combat climate change!

Renewable energy is central in the fight against climate change. Having 100% renewable energy service means that MCE matches all of your household's electricity with carbon-free, naturally replenishing sources, like solar and wind energy.

The more people using 100% renewable energy, the more solar and wind farms are built to replace polluting, fossil fuel power plants. Not only do fossil fuel plants harm our planet but they also increase air pollution, which can harm people who live near these facilities.

MCE's Green Access Program is just one of the ways we're partnering with our communities to provide more renewable power, customer savings, and environmental equity.

With gratitude,

Dawn Weisz, MCE CEO
