Please share our letter to the Marin Independent Journal (published December 21, 2025) with MCE Board members.

Napa Climate NOW!, the 350 Bay Area group for Napa County, would like to thank MCE Clean Energy for expanding beyond Marin County and providing our county with clean, renewable energy. MCE expanded to Napa County in 2015 and, since then, has helped the county's more than 57,000 customers reduce 81,000 metric tons of carbon.

We deeply appreciate having a utility that does so much more than provide power—MCE helps to power change in our region toward greater sustainability.

We are a local nonprofit focused on reducing climate pollution and increasing resilience in Napa County. As the sponsor of our 2024 and 2025 Napa Climate Summit events, MCE helped us educate our community. In 2024 “Climate Solutions Showcase” spotlighted clean energy solutions for homeowners. In 2025, “Investing in Our Future” focused on youth with an inspiring presentation by Tyla Brown, Senior Partnership Development Manager at MCE. The event included a job fair where local agencies let students know about paid internships, including those offered by MCE.

MCE is dedicated to involving community members in its governance and operation. We have participated in the Community Power Coalition, which brings together environmental and social justice groups from around the Bay Area to provide feedback on programs and help with outreach.

The continued presence and affordability of MCE is vital to our communities.
